And so began an adventure. Three young travellers from the Kingdom Halvaya set out to end the end and bring back the light that was stolen when the Grand Authorian muttered those words, those horrible words: "the end"

When those words were muttered eleven months ago the world stopped. Everyone stood still all except tge three. They were the new Authorians they were the ones who would create the stories that the old Authorian hadn't. They would make the story of their people, first however they would need to find the Book of the Meanings, the expansive story in which that of their people is told.

The journey would be difficult, the road barren and abandoned as the people had stopped living. In the eleven months since the End, the three had faced nothing, seen nothing, and achieved nothing. They need a clue and thank the Authorian they got one. They knew where the Book was, but the journey would be tough. They would be tested like never before. And when they are done they will be known as the winners of the Story Wars, the winners of Beginnings. This is the chapter of the Book of the Meanings that tells that story.
